Palparan dead man walking, says NPA

The people will protect me, says general

By Tonette Orejas
Inquirer Central Luzon

CITY OF SAN FERNANDO—Maj. Gen. Jovito Palparan should consider himself a "dead man walking" after he retires from the military on Sept. 11, the spokesperson of the New People's Army in Central Luzon said on Monday.

Speaking to the Inquirer by phone, Jose Aguilon said efforts by the NPA Joaquin Corpuz Command to kill Palparan, the outgoing commander of the Army's 7th Infantry Division, had not stopped.

The NPA wants Palparan to pay for his alleged string of human rights atrocities against civilians and political activists in the region, according to Aguilon.

In a separate statement, Aguilon said the controversial general had "been judged and will surely face revolutionary justice."

"He is a war criminal and must be judged as such. He is responsible for the killing of more than 70 unarmed civilians and no less than 50 abductions. He is a law unto himself, violating not only the basic rights of people but international humanitarian law with regard to the rights of civilians in armed conflict," he said.

Palparan, he said, showed the "real face of the fascist state."

President Macapagal-Arroyo and the US government are also being held responsible for "Palparan's rampage in Central Luzon," Aguilon said. (See related story on Page A17.)

Palparan brushed off the threat to his life.

"I will be a 'free man walking,'" he told the Inquirer.

"The rebels have been reduced significantly and their forces are thinning out because of mass surrenders or desertion," Palparan said.

Even after he leaves the military,

DOJ panel finds captain, execs liable for oil spill

By Armand N. Nocum and Dona Z. Pazzibugan

A DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE PANEL yesterday recommended criminal and civil charges against the captain of the MT Solar I and its owners as well as executives of Petron Corp. for the worst oil spill in the nation's history.

"There is criminal negligence on the part of the captain, Norberto Aguro, and crew members; criminal and civil liability for (the) officers of Sunshine Maritime Development Corp. (SMDC) for torts, and civil liability for the officers of Petron Corp.," said the panel in a report following Monday's hearing.

In the report, Justice Undersecretaries Ricardo Blancaflor, Lauro and Ernesto Pineda said those to be charged included Petron distribution manager Roland R. Salonga, Sunshine Maritime president Clemente Canata and Aguro.

They will be charged with violation of the Revised Penal Code provision on reckless imprudence resulting in homicide and damage to property, the National Internal Revenue Code, the Corporation Code (Batas Pambansa Blg. 68), the Anti-Dummy Law (Commonwealth Act No. 108) and the Clean Water Act (Republic Act No. 9275).

But Pineda said Petron was getting off with a relatively lighter offense because it had simply chartered the Solar I, which sank on Aug. 11 in rough seas off Guimaras Island, spilling bunker fuel oil and polluting a 220-km coastline, fertile BAGABAG, NUEVA VIZCAYA—WHEN THE CEREZO quadruplets were 4 years old, their widowed mother placed them in a 1- by 2-meter wooden playpen so she could tend to her "sari-sari" (variety) store, her only means of livelihood.

That was three years ago.

Now 7 years old, Mary Grace (Kringkring), Mary Rose (Jingjing), Mary Jane (Wengweng) and Mary Joy (Tingting) Cerezo go to school, play and simply enjoy being children.

With their mother's courage and the public's help, the quadruplets have adjusted and are quite happy to be in second grade at the Bagabag South Primary School.

AN APPEAL TO PRESIDENT ARROYO

The Expropriation of Terminal 3 a Mis-use of the People's Money

Which should prevail, the decision of our Supreme Court or that of a foreign-based arbitration court?

Madame President, we are appealing to your sense of justice and fairness. Kindly intervene and direct your officials to withdraw the expropriation of the unfinished NAIA-Terminal 3 built by PIATCO.

By heeding this appeal, your Administration would be:

- Stopping the (a) possible misuse of some $565 million – representing the "just compensation" demanded by PIATCO which is more than the $175 million it actually expended on Terminal 3 – of the people's money which could be used to improve the lot of more than 30% of our fellow Filipinos now mired in extreme poverty; and (b) execution of the order of Pasay City RTC Judge Jesus B. Mupas to the government to immediately pay PIATCO an initial amount of P3 billion.

- Upholding the rule of law in consonance with our Supreme Court's decision (a) nullifying the contract of PIATCO for violating the Constitution and (b) recommending the imposition on PIATCO of the "stiffest sanctions permissible under the law." Acceding to the demand for "just compensation" will enable PIATCO to profit from Terminal 3 in contravention of the SC ruling.

- Aborting the anomalous expropriation of a government property, as clearly enunciated in the SC decision, which is obviously intended to prevent the opening of PIATCO's books that will expose alleged corruption in the construction of Terminal 3;

- Gaining the moral ascendancy in its declared war on corruption as the withdrawal of the initiative to expropriate Terminal 3, and its attendant hasty payment of PIATCO's claim for "just compensation, will serve as a clear warning to government officials, who seemed obsessed with paying PIATCO $565 million when government as owner of Terminal 3 can recover this facility for its actual construction costs estimated at only $175 million(minus the damages government incurred due to PIATCO's bad faith), to toe the line.

- Speeding up the opening of Terminal 3, thereby preventing its deterioration into another mega-buck "white elephant" as the Bataan Nuclear Power Plant, International Expo to name a few; and finally

- Erasing the widespread negative perception that the initiative to expropriate Terminal 3 is but a sinister plot to eventually hand-over the airport facility to PIATCO in contravention of the Supreme Court's decision against PIATCO.

The real cost for 3 budget cars for 3 years

Text by Tessa R. Salazar
Photos by Rolly Lomiso

Conclusion

LAST WEEK, Inquirer Motoring revealed the prices of original equipment manufactured parts frequently changed on the 1.1-liter Hyundai Getz, 1.1-liter Kia Picanto and 1.0-liter Chery Spark (all retailing under P500,000).

The retail prices, however, do not mean that the spending ends there.

Here's a hypothetical cost computation for the three cars, if you use them for three years. Based on the recommended service maintenance schedules of each car company, Inquirer Motoring has come up with theoretical cost computations.

We say theoretical because the prices we're using are based on the present rate. Inflation will play a factor in future costs, as much as your personal driving and maintenance habits.

Here's the gist: Say you rack up 20,000 km in your odometer per year, the operating costs at that distance, per car would be:

LENGTH is relative. It can be determined by the tape measure, or by your budget for the after-sales service.
